Yugoslavia Admits Mass Arrests

–Conferees Explore World Situation–
China Recognition Is Refused By 'ANZUS'

U.S., Australia, And New Zealand Discuss 3-Nation Defense Role

From Press Dispatches

WASHINGTON—The U.S., Australia and New Zealand agreed Wednesday to give no consideration at this time to the diplomatic recognition of Red China or its admission to the United Nations.

The agreement by the Foreign Ministers of the three countries was reported by informed quarters after a four-hour meeting at the State Department.

The United States has steadfastly opposed either step, but the position of Australia and New Zealand on the issue has been somewhat vague, despite the fact they are members of the British Commonwealth. Britain already recognizes Red China and has supoprted moves to seat the Chinese Communists in the U.N.

Informants said the Australian and New Zealand foreign ministers each took the view there was no question of giving Red China a seat in the U.N. under present circumstances.

Later, officials expanded this statement to mean the three governments would oppose admitting Red China at the U.N. Assembly session opening in New York next week, unless the Communists agree to a satisfactory peace settlement of the Korean War at a meeting tentatively set to begin Oct. 15 in Switzerland.

First-Year Review

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Australian Minister of External Affairs Richard C. Casey and New Zeland Minister of External Affairs T. Clifton Webb headed up the discussions.

They met at the "ANZUS" council conference called to review the first year of the U. S. Australian-New Zealand Alliance in which the three nations pledged to defend each other in event of aggression in the Pacific.

An informed source said that Wednesday's session generally explored the world situation, especially the threat of Communism and Soviet policies and tactics following the death of Premier Joseph Stalin.

The conferees were said to have discussed the role that the three countries will have to fulfill in the defense of the free world against Communist aggression.

Indochina and Korea also reportedly came in for "special attention."

Casey and Webb were said to have wholeheartedly endorsed the recent speech by Dulles in which he warned that the new Red Chinese aggression against Korea or Indochina might provoke war against China itself.

Night Parade Thursday For Cpl. Effinger

Pvt. Singleton is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco Thursday aboard a troop transport. From there he will come directly to Lincoln. Time of his arrival here is not definitely known.

Other officials in the parade include Mayor Jeary, Gov. Crosby, Adjutant Gen. Guy N. Henninger, officers of Elks Lodge No. 80, and Charles Thone, commander of American Legion Post No. 3.

Six Britons Said Killed

LONDON (INS)—The British Admiralty said Wednesday night a Red Chinese vessel opened fire on the 46-ton British motor launch 1323 off Hong Kong early Wednesday, killing six and wounding five of its crew members.

The launch, operating in Hong Kong's "seaward defense" system, normally carries a crew of 14. It is 72-feet long and of a class that carries one three-pounder or one 40-milimeter gun, plus a 20-milimeter anti-aircraft gun.

Small Fire Mars Raft Voyage, But Burdens Still Afloat

A flash fire marred the first day of the B. C. Burden's raft trip down the Missouri and Mississippi to New Orleans, according to word received here.

When Mr. Burden lighted the small stove the first morning out near Brownville, Neb., it ignited a small blaze which was quickly extinguished, James Burden, a son, said Wednesday night.

Mr. Burden suffered only minor burns on the hand in putting the fire out. There was little damage and the raft was able to continue its voyage.

The Lincoln couple arrived at Atchison, Kan., Wednesday and have been averaging about 60 miles a day, their son said, adding, that Mr. and Mrs. Burden start out about "6:30 or 7 in the morning and tie up when its gets dark."

Eagle Accident Victims' Condition Still Critical

Dale Campbell of Malvern, Ia., and William Barker of Eagle, injured Monday afternoon in a two car headon collision four miles west of Eagle, were "somewhat improved but still in critical condition" at Bryan Memorial Hospital Wednesday night.

Campbell has remained unconscious for more than 50 hours following the accident. A hospital attendant said Wednesday that the injured man stirred only slightly at the sound of his name.

Values Of A Liberal Education

Beginning on The Star's editorial page today is a series of articles by distinguished members of the University of Nebraska faculty on the role of a liberal education in the modern world.

This is more than a series for the young men and women who wonder what they should study, what fields they should explore; it is also for those who desire to re-examine the values which are the roots of our cultural heritage.

By BARCLAY BAYLEY
Star Staff Writer

A tremendously thrrilled 17-year-old Weeping Water girl won a trip to Chicago at the 4-H Purple Ribbon Show Wednesday night at the State Fair.

Joan Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norris of Weeping Water, parlayed her ability with needle and thread into a trip to the National 4-H Congress at Chicago in November.

Joan's entry was classed as a purple ribbon winner in the "simple tailored costume division." She was selected from the other purple ribbon winners during the dress revue.

4-H Veteran

The young seamstress is no newcomer to 4-H work. She has been active in the organization for over nine years.

A surprise visitor topped the list of guests saluting the purple ribbon winners. Gov. Robert Crosby expressed his pleasure at being able to attend and presented the music appreciation winners.

The champion 4-Hers were presented during a colorful pageant represented as "the greatest show on earth." It was a three-ring circus, complete with young clowns and a number of novelty musical numbers presented by the purple ribbon song groups.

In all, awards were recognized in the clothing, beef, foods and canning, dairy, homemaking, song group, crops and garden, entomology, swine, sheep, poster, secretary book and dressmaking divisions.

Ringmaster Neal Baxter of North Platte introduced the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce members who in turn presented each purple ribbon winner with a special commemorative ribbon.

The Central City 4-H band was heard in concert and members of the University 4-H Club served as clowns to carry out the circus theme.

Participating in the program were E. W. Janike and Miss Florence Atwood of the University of Nebraska; Dean Kratz, Lincoln Chamber of Commerce president; Ed Schultz, State Fair Board secretary; and Maynard Coe of Chicago. Leslie Troeger, editor of the National 4-H Club News, also was an observer and guest.

Pen Plant Destroyed In Riots

... Washington Uprising

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Hundreds of Washington State prison inmates smashed furniture and broke windows in their cells Wednesday night in an outbreak that followed a half million dollar fire earlier in the afternoon.

Deputy Warden Al Remboldt said the rioting started in the mainline dining room when the first group of prisoners were fed after the fire which destroyed the prison metals plant.

Inmates broke dishes and smashed chairs before the officers managed to quiet them down. They immediately were removed to their cells where the disorder continued.

Windows were smashed on both sides of six wing, the largest cell block and the one that houses the toughest men, officials said. Lavatories were pulled from the walls and smashed on the floor. Beds were smashed and mattresses ripped.

The disturbance reached its peak about 8 p.m. PST but officers said anything could happen during the night—and probably would.

Within five minutes after the disturbance started, the prison was an armed camp. Eighty guards, aided by 30 state patrolmen, city police and deputy sheriffs patroled the walls with guns and gas weapons.

Deep Freeze Claims Lives Of Two Boys

DESMET, Idaho (AP) — Two small children climbed into a deep freeze on the front porch of their new home near here and were suffocated.

The victims were Peter L. Sheppard, 6, and his brother Robert Sheppard, 4, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sheppard. They were rushed to nearby Tekoa, Wash., after the father found them but Dr. Vern Cressey pronounced them dead on arrival.

The 8-cubic-foot freezer was sitting on the front porch of a new rural home the Sheppards had built near this little north Idaho community. The freezer wasn't connected.

The tragedy brought to 13 the number of similar deaths recently across the country. Within a few days last month five children died at Marion, Ark.; four at Richmond, Va., and two at Haverhill, Mass. All suffocated in unused iceboxes.

City, Sanitation District Face 'Serious' Problem On Sewer

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The city and Sanitary District 1 are now facing a "serious" sanitary sewer problem with the solution apparently lying in a determination of responsibilities between the two sub-divisions.

The immediate problem concerns the now overloaded sanitary sewer which runs from College View west to the State Penitentiary and skirts the west edge of the city up to N. This overloaded condition has resulted in the discharge of the State Hospital sanitary sewer into Salt Creek at the Van Dorn bridge over Salt.

Walter B. Coale, District engineer, stated that the State Hospital by-pass into Salt has been very consistant this summer. The board of directors of the district, said Coale, have plans in mind for construction of a new and larger sewer line from the Penitentiary to South to allow the discharge of the State Hospital line into the Penitentiary line.

City Responsibility

Such a construction, however, said Coale, will be ineffective unless the city does something about the overloaded sewers from South to N which would carry the sewage from the new main. The district, said Coale, views the South to N line as a city responsibility because the area lies within the city limits.

City Engineer D. L. Erickson agrees only in part with Coale. The city has some responsibility, said Erickson, but not for the entire South to N line.

Erickson pointed out that the city's South to N line would not be overloaded were it not for the state institutions which feed into the line. The city, said Erickson, has more responsibility for its N Street sewer where it also discharges at times into Salt.

There is now a 12-inch sewer main from a point east of the Penitentiary northwest to South. According to Coale, the District is considering plans for constructing an additional 18-inch line in that area.

It was noted by Coale, however, that the 18- and 12-inch mains would discharge into a 15-inch sewer at South and would thus be of no value.

Same Pocket

Mayor Clark Jeary stated that he would make an immediate attempt to get representatives of the city and District together to make a determination of responsibilities. It is useless, said Jeary, for two sub-divisions to argue over responsibilities when all the money comes from the same pocket anyway.

The dumping of raw sewage into Salt was termed "undesirable" by Les Sanger, chief of the sanitation division of the City-County Health Department. Sanger stated that the extent of pollution in a stream depends upon the flow of water and added that Salt normally has a small flow.

Raw sewage discharged into surface streams, said Sanger, can be carried into homes by flies. This, he said, can spread typhoid, diarrhea and other internal disorders.

Also, said Sanger, raw sewage in streams eats up all the oxygen in the water, thus destroying the stream for fishing purposes. And those who fish the stream or children who might play along the banks or swim in the channel are in danger of contamination from the raw sewage, he said.

"Our goal," said Sanger, "should be to work toward the elimination of any discharge of raw sewage into Salt. Every effort should be made to intercept sewage into Salt, and take it to the sewage treatment plant."

According to both Coale and Erickson, one reason for the overloaded South to N sewer is the discharge of air conditioning water into sanitary sewers. The N Street sewer drains a large section of the city to the south and clear to College View at its southeast extremity.

Newsmen Fined For Contempt

... Appeal Planned

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three members of the Cleveland Press editorial staff were convicted of contempt of court late Wednesday by Common Pleas Judge Joseph H. Silbert.

The case involved taking a photograph in Judge Silbert's courtroom after the judge had told one of the defendants no pictures would be allowed.

The photograph, taken Aug. 20 and published the same day, showed former Probate Judge Nelson J. Brewer being arraigned on a charge of embezzlement.

The three men, and the penalties imposed by Judge Silbert were: City Editor Louis Clifford, fined $500 and costs, and sentenced to the cutody of the sheriff for one hour.

Reporter Sam Giaimo, fined $100, suspended.

Photographer James Thomas, fined $100, suspended.

Atty. Tom J. Edwards, general counsel for the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, said the case will be appealed.

'Thirsty' Roots Damaging Many Sewer Lines

The current dry spell has caused more than a shortage of drinking water alone.

The dry weather has been credited with an increase in the number of sewer lines clogged up with tree roots. Firms dealing in the rooting out of clogged sewers have reported a definite increase, some as much as 25 per cent, in the number of calls for sewer cleaning service.

These firms, along with several nursery experts, generally agree that the dry weather has caused the tree roots to spread out in search of water and enter sewer lines where they could.

Hearty At 92, He Still Attends Fair

By BARCLAY BAYLEY
Star Staff Writer

Ninety-two years old and fit as a fiddle, William Iondence dropped out to the State Fair to take a look around.

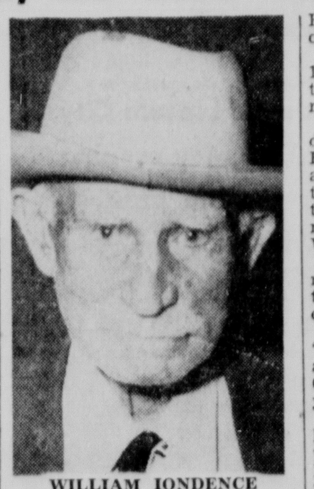

He says it is the last time he is going to make the trip but in view of his past record it seems doubtful that he will pass up next year's exposition.

Iondence saw his first Nebraska State Fair in 1879 and has seen "20 or 30" since then. In the past 12 years he has missed only one—last year's.

Born near Springfield, Ill., in 1860, the veteran rancher and lawyer came to Nebraska when he was sixteen and has lived on his ranch at the edge of Dawes County ever since then — officially at least.

All his life he has "just gone visiting now and then." Still keeping in the life-long pattern he only recently returned from trips to Seattle, Wash.; Denver and Omaha. He always travels alone.

While in Lincoln he stayed with his daughter's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Hocking of 3225 D.

WILLIAM IONDENCE

According to Hocking, Iondence's sight is a little poor but otherwise he is in good health. He still manages his 320 acres of Nebraska ranch land.

Iondence was a member of the 1931 and 1933 Nebraska Legislatures and in 1933 he was chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

In recalling the 1879 Fair, Iondence said that compared to the Fair now it wasn't much but the atmosphere was the same. On that trip he stayed at the Charters Hotel which was located right under what is now the West O viaduct.

He says he goes to the Fair mainly to see the cattle but also takes "a good look at everything else."

Iondence has four grandsons, "spread all over the country," and a granddaughter. His son, Charles, died this year at 66 years of age.

Visiting a friend in a Lincoln hotel at the time he was interviewed, Iondence got ready to leave and picked up a small, travel-worn satchel. "See this bag?" he asked, "carried it for over 50 years."

It seems that the bag had better have a good deal of wear still left in it too, he neglected to add.

171,731 Are Jailed In A Five-Year Period

Tito Government Shows Confidence In Internal Security Position

By ALEX SINGLETON

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Vice President Mosha Pijade said in an official report Wednesday night Communist Yugoslavia arrested 171,731 persons — many "without reason" — on criminal and political charges in the five-year period of 1948-52.

The peak for mass arrests was 52,606 in 1949, the year of Marshal Tito's break with the Kremlin and Yugoslavia's cominform neighbors.

Pijade's report came as President Tito's government pressed demands in Parliament for adoption of a law which would modify the statutes on criminal procedure.

The bold acknowledgement of wholesale arrests in the five-year period and the move for reform were taken as obvious evidence of government confidence in the current internal security position.

Pijade listed these arrest totals: 1948—45,086; 1949—52,606; 1950—36,196; 1951—22,359; 1952—15,484.

No Figures for 1953

No figures were given for the current year.

Pijade said of the total given, 30.4 per cent were arrested without reason in 1950; 26.6 per cent in 1951 and 20.2 per cent in 1952.

He did not give the percentage for the previous two years or for the first eight months of this year.

The words "arrested without reason" were Pijade's own and he did not further explain them.

He said that a large number of the persons arrested were released without trial and that others were sent for "corrective treatment" to state labor projects. Some, he said, are still serving their terms.

In a previous speech, another Yugoslav vice president, Alexander Rankovic, said many person were arrested after the war without special grounds and were later freed.

'Missing' GIs Will Be Listed

944 Names To Be Released By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The names of 944 Americans believed at one time to have been Korean War prisoners, but who have not been accounted for, will be made public beginning Friday.

The Defense Department, making the announcement Wednesday, said the Communists have been asked to account for 610 Army personnel, 312 Air Force, 19 Marines and 3 Navy men.

Their names will be made pubic 24 hours after the nearest relatives of each man have been notified that the individual is missing.

The list was based on information from various sources including "reports such as those from repatriated personnel, Communist radio broadcasts, news accounts and personal letters."

Tension Mounts

MUNSAN (Thursday) — A welter of protests from both the United Nations command and the Communists added tension and growing ill feeling today to the administration of the Korean military armistice.

The gravest complaint was an Allied demand Wednesday for "prompt action" from the Reds in explaining why 3,404 Allied prisoners, including 944 Americans, were not returned in Operation Big Switch which ended Sunday.

"We now demand that you return these people to us or account to us for each of these individuals," said Maj. Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan, Allied senior member of the Military Armistice Commission.

"Here is the list. We expect prompt action."

Korean Lt. Gen Lee Sang Cho reserved the right to answer later.

(Red China's Peiping Radio labeled as a "faked list" the names of more than 3,000 unrepatriated Allied soldiers for which the U. N. Command has demanded an accounting.)

The U.N. Command was proceeding with the movement of 14,500 Chinese and 7,800 North Koreans who have refused to return home.

The vanguard of almost 2,000 reluctant Reds arrived at Inchon, Seoul's port and were being unloaded for transfer to the demilitarized zone. There they will come under the custody of Indian troops while Red officers offer "explanations" during a 90-day interview period. Other ship loads were on their way.

Allied officers will have an equal opportunity to interview and talk with Allied prisoners reported unwilling to come back home.

NU Editor Won't Take Russian Trip

Ken Rystrom, editor of the University of Nebraska campus newspaper, said Wednesday night that circumstances have forced him to give up a trip to Russia with four other college editors.

Rystrom said a member of the group advised him that he would have to be in Washington, D. C. at noon Thursday in order to begin clearance procedures with U. S. and Russian officials for the trip.

Since he had not yet made suitable financial arrangements, he said, this development forced him to give up the trip.

Meanwhile, there was a possibility that another student, prevoiusly scheduled to go with the group, might decide to go alone. Mark Edmond, editor of the University of Colorado Daily, told Rystrom he would rather take a longer trip by himself.

Edmond, now an employee of the Denver Post, told Rystrom he is formulating plans to have that newspaper finance his trip over a longer period of time than the two weeks in Russia the group of three editors would spend there.

Pole Quits Red Team

SEOUL, Thursday (AP)—Jan Hajdukiewicz, a Pole who yesterday broke from his neutral nations team supervising the Korean truce and got U.S. sanctuary, told a news conference today he does not want to return to his Communist dominated country.

Hajdukiewicz, who asked for and received American political asylum even as a plane warmed up to take him back to North Korea, told Allied correspondents in the press billet at Seoul that there is no freedom of speech in Poland.

"We cannot say anything—we cannot discuss anything," he declared.

Asked if an underground organization was operating against the Reds in Poland, he replied: "Of course."

Hajdukiewicz said he was "most afraid" for the safety of his mother and sister in Poland as a result of his action.

'Kidnapped'

At Panmunjom, the Polish delegate to the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission asserted that Hajdukiewicz had been "kidnapped" by the American Army and said a strong protest would be lodged.

Hajdukiewicz had asked sanctuary of Col. Harold T. Babb, commander of the air base at Kangnung on the East Coast.

"It's my last chance," he told the startled Babb.

Hajdukiewicz, vowing he was an anti-Communist of long standing, was taken to a secret destination. It was reported he was somewhere in the Seoul area.

County Rejects $970 Fire Damage Claim

The Lancaster County Commissioners rejected a fire-damage claim, tabled a tax refund claim, and awarded a contract for 10,000 gallons of gasoline.

The gasoline award went to Jacobs Service, Inc., with a low bid of $.1869 per gallon. Gerbrig Oil Co., of Martell, bid $.1900 per gallon.

The $446 claim of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle B. Eno of 538 So. 24th, for taxes paid under protest on property erroneously assessed as improved was tabled for further study on motion of Commissioned Chauncey Barney.

The county attorney's office had recommended approval of the claim, but Barney asked a study into the legal technicalities involved in paying the claim, which may require court action.

The $970 fire-damage claim of C. J. Mitchell of Roca was rejected as not representing liability of the county and the county engineer was directed to follow the claim and determine settlement of proper claims against a contractor involved prior to payment of the contract.

Mitchell had claimed the amount as damages to his hay crop and meadow from a fire caused by the burning of brush on a county road by a contractor.

Approved was publication of the delinquent tax list in The Lincoln Journal at 10 cents a line. The newspaper was the only bidder.

Registration A Family Affair

Mother, Father With Twin Sons, Register For College

Classes opened at Nebraska Wesleyan University Wednesday, capping a week-long period of freshman orientation activities and officially launching the 1953-54 school year.

Admissions Counsellor V. A. Colon would make no prediction on a final enrollment figure because "there are still too many students who have not completed registration" but he hinted the final figure should compare "favorably with that of a year ago."

Among resgistrants Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kirk of Hallam and their twin sons, Duane and Wayne, 2½. The twins were interested spectators as their parents went through registration lines. Their "day in college" ended after Dean of Women Ethel Johnson aided Mrs. Kirk with the final registration problem.

A full staff of teachers greeted the Wesleyan student body Wednesday, despite loss of two department heads during late summer in areas in which vacancies were apparently more numerous than were available teachers.

Dr. Rolf Singer of Chicago arrived on the campus Thursday to fill a vacancy as head of the chemistry department, replacing Huber Ludwig who resigned.

Lazern Sorensen of Lincoln earlier had joined the biological sciences staff to fill a teaching gap created by the sudden death of Dr. S. B. Shively, head of the department, in late July.

Local Demos Plan Monday Caravan To Stevenson Rally

Lancaster County Young Democrats will form a caravan and drive to Chicago Monday to hear Adlai Stevenson speak at the national party meeting Tuesday.

Approximately 25 persons of the younger group plus older party members will leave Lincoln at 6 a.m. from the YMCA.

Former president Harry Truman will join the caravan at Des Moines, Ia., if he drives to the meeting, chairman Dick Hansen said.

The caravan will pick up Democratic groups from Iowa and Illinois as it crosses the states.

Lancaster Young Democrats will attend discussions centering around agricultural policy and political organizations and the national committee meeting Tuesday. Stevenson will speak at 8:30 p.m.

Cpl. S. J. Varela, Former Prisoner, To Return Sunday

OMAHA (AP)—Corp. Santiago J. Varela, 20, of Omaha, a prisoner of the Communists for more than two years, will arrive in the United States Sunday.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Varela, were informed by the office of the Secretary of Army Wednesday that the young soldiers would arrive aboard a Navy transport.

A member of the family said no one in the family planned to go to San Francisco to meet the corporal because "we were afraid that might delay things."

Corp. Varela was reported missing in action April 25, 1951.

Catholic Women's Group Will Have Safety Talk

Stephenson, Would-Be 4 Percenter, Concedes He Was 'Indiscreet'

WASHINGTON (INS) — An Eisenhower presidential campaign aid admitted in testimony made public Wednesday that he was "indiscreet" and worked to the disadvantage of the government in attempting a "4 per cent" deal on Navy rocket launchers.

Warren L. Stephenson, prominent Washington Republican, conceded the "indiscretion" when he testified before a House Armed Services Subcommittee in connection with the rocket-launcher case. The subcommittee took the wraps off testimony taken in closed session.

Also revealed was the assertion of Stanley H. Bishop, a self - styled $50,000 - a - year Washington tipster, that "two cups of coffee" in the right place will yield enough secret information on government contracts to "last a couple of weeks."

Passed Along Tips

Bishop told the subcommittee that he passed along to Stephenson a tip on competitive bids for "Mickey Mouse" rocket launchers to be built for the Navy.

Stephenson was disclosed to have first denied, and later to have admitted, that he sought a $2,000 a month salary or a 4 per cent commission on rocket launcher business he might get for Century Engineers, Inc., of Burbank, Calif.

The testimony showed that Stephenson acknowledged he gave classified government information to the Century firm, which rejected his proposal that he act as the company's representative in contract negotiations.

Stephenson, who was a member of President Eisenhower's campaign train party and executive secretary of the Inaugural Committee, was questioned by Subcommittee Counsel John J. Courtney.

Courtney asked: "You know as a businessman that it would be to the disadvantage of the government to have disseminated to competitors, or to bidders, information as to the amount of bids that had been received from bidders prior to negotiation by the government, did you not?"

Stephenson replied: "I certainly did."

Courtney: "You knew it would work to the disadvantage of the government?"

Stephenson: "Well, I didn't sit down and figure that out, Mr. Counselor, but I knew it."

Courtney: "What you did, you did with full knowledge of this fact?"

Stephenson: "Well, I would say—I might say—I was indiscreet."

Stephenson said the information on which he based his attempted deal with Century was given to him by Bishop.

Bishop told the probers that he picks up such data by eavesdropping on the conversations of government officials.

The witness, who testified that he gets a three per cent commission on whatever business his clients develop from his tips, said he operated by floating from one government coffee bar to another, in the Pentagon and elsewhere.

Second Victim Dies In Crete Road Accident

By The Associated Press

The death of a second victim Wednesday in an accident near Crete, Neb., boosted Nebraska's 1953 traffic death toll to 202.

Fred Heller, 55, of Beatrice died shortly after noon in a Crete hospital of injuries suffered in the collision of his car and a truck. He was the second occupant of the car to die of injuries. The first was Charles Meyer, 57, of Camos, Wash.

Hospital authorities said one other person injured in the accident remains in serious condition but now is "holding her own." She is Mrs. Nadine Meyer, 29, also of Camos.

Saline County Sheriff John Tesar said Heller's car was in a collision with a loaded egg truck driven by Gale L. Rice, 24, of Blue Springs, Neb. Rice was not injured and two passengers in the Heller car escaped injury.

Mrs. Irene Heller, 52, of Beatrice, and Charles Heller, 4, of Wilber, were treated at the hospital for minor cuts and released. Mrs. Ralph Heller of Wilber and Cathey Heller, 8, of Wilber were uninjured.

Tesar said the truck overturned but the car stayed upright.

He said skid marks showed the truck skidded 84 feet. There were no skid marks for the passenger car occupied by the Heller party.

Crete Death Car Claims Two Lives

Two persons died Wednesday as a result of a car-truck crash two miles south and two miles west of Crete at a dirt road intersection. Fred Heller, Beatrice, reported driver of the car above, and a passenger, Charles Meyer of Camas, Wash., died as a result of their injuries.

THERE'S BEEN a lot of talk in recent months about "new" V-8 engines. Almost every car maker has now jumped onto the V-8 bandwagon. Mercury has a big head start on these "newcomers" because it has always been a V-8—in fact, is the only car in America with an exclusively V-8 history.

That means greater value for you—from your original purchase right through until you trade it in. Mercury gives you big-car styling, luxury and performance at a price just slightly higher than the so-called low-priced cars. Mercury's proven V-8 performance and proven economy save you money all the time you drive. A Liberal Education

Elsewhere on this page appears the first of a series of articles written by members of the faculty of the University of Nebraska discussing one of the controversial questions confronting many American universities and colleges today—the role which liberal education occupies in the daily lives of American men and women.

Throughout the summer 20 members of the university faculty have been writing upon the various phases of the importance of study in the fields of science, history, economics, the humanities, and languages. The first of the series is from the pen of Prof. John R. Alden, a distinguished historian.

Others in the series will follow.

This is an enchanting world in which we live, with its undercurrents of social and economic significance, its conflicts between old, deeply-rooted cultures, civilization's struggle to write its brightest page. Today perhaps the younger generation moves upon the scene better prepared than any previous generation. And we trust that the next shall be even better. What shall it study—what shall be its foundation — what fields shall it explore to the end that life shall prove satisfying and useful to it—and that it shall be better enabled to make an enduring, lasting contribution to America?

The mature years bring their regrets. We were reminded of that a few years ago by a distinguished citizen of this state who said that as the years advanced upon him, deeper became his hunger for knowledge and keener his regret that in those years of college preparation he had not had the opportunity—or had not been impressed with the opportunity—to obtain what Jefferson once described in detailed outline as the basic educational requirements millions of future Americans should fulfill. The older we become the greater this hunger for knowledge. We want to know of peoples and their history. We long to be able to speak many languages. In such a simple matter as words some of us even crave to pry deeper to discover where and how they originated and how their meanings gradually changed, in the event they have changed. We thrill to the sciences so dominating in life today—to economic evolution as it unfolds—and to the great social undercurrents which have added to or taken from the dignity of man in all his glory.

Figuratively from the cradle to the grave, it can be said that life can be beautiful. And the most beautiful life is that which each year adds to its own accumulation of knowledge—knowledge which may have no direct technical bearing on the daily occupation — but the broad outline of a liberal education which enlarges man's horizons constantly.

Not in controversial spirit but for fuller appreciation of the meaning of a liberal education, The Lincoln Star is happy to present this series which will appear on this page in the weeks ahead.

Lincoln's Reservoir Plans

We said here earlier in the week that the Black and Veatch comprehensive plan for expansion of Lincoln's water plant included a substantial increase in the reservoir capacities.

It does.

The total existing reservoir capacity at this time is 29,750,000 gallons of water. The water expansion program contemplated by Black and Veatch in their study basis of Lincoln's expanded water facilities will increase reservoir capacity 17,500,000 gallons—or provide a total reservoir capacity of 47,250,000 gallons—an increase in storage facilities of more than 60 per cent. That means that this community will have more than a 24-hour supply in storage when the reservoirs are full on days of peak consumption — substantially more than a day's supply on the basis of peak demands throughout this summer of 1953 of drought and heat. This, it should be borne in mind, is in addition to substantially increased pumping capacity through the construction of more wells and a second 48-inch pipeline leading from the Platte River at Ashland to Lincoln.

That should be good news to the people of Lincoln, who have been long patient and long suffering.

That the situation may be thoroughly understood, we think this information relative to the existing resorvoir capacity is important:

(1)—One group of two reservoirs just to the north of the A Street station with a total capacity of 14,000,000 gallons.

(2)—One group of three reservoirs just to the south of the A Street station with a total capacity of 8,000,000 gallons.

(3)—One reservoir farther south of the A Street station at approximately the intersection of Jefferson and Arlington, with a capacity of 7,000,000 gallons.

(4)—Two small reservoirs in University Place with total combined capacity of about 750,000 gallons.

The proposed reservoirs under the Black and Veatch report call for two stages of construction. The first, to be completed by the summer of 1955, calls for a 5-million gallon reservoir between Ashland and 51st Street at a cost of $347,614; a 2-million-gallon capacity reservoir around 7th and F Streets to cost $375,000; and finally, a third reservoir of 5 million gallons capacity in College View to cost $120,000.

The second stage calls for a 10-million-gallon reservoir across the highway from 51st Street station, to cost $632,040. It would be completed within 10 years.

There may be reasons for delaying the completion of these reservoirs—the first units of which would be completed by the summer of 1955. Mayor Jeary and his Council colleagues, we are quite sure, are fully aware that there is still the summer of 1954, an unknown quantity at this time but whose wants will have to be taken care of. If technical problems are not too great, common sense suggests we should be getting to the construction of these reservoirs without delay, taking advantage of the fall and early spring to complete them and to fill them before the maximum water requirements arise.

Of Men And Things

Two names have figured most prominently in the speculation over appointment of a successor to Chief Justice Fred Vinson who died of a heart attack early Tuesday. They are Gov. Earl Warren of California and Gov. Thomas Dewey of New York. Neither has been associated with the resurgent, aggressive, conservative wing of the Republican party.

Late in the 'forties we made a special trip to a certain inland California city to talk with a publisher who had given a barefoot boy a job selling newspapers. The boy became attorney general and then governor of the state of California — the newspaper man was his first confidant, his close, trusted advisor, his unfailing good friend through all the years of an exciting political career. Earl Warren's life is one of those typical American success stories which warms the cockles of the hearts of millions of Americans. As the head of an attractive, appealing family, as a citizen and as a popular political leader, he is a grand man. He has been elected governor of California three times, the choice of Republicans and Democrats alike. His appointment would not go well with a lot of reactionary Republicans. He made the "mistake" of sponsoring a medical program for California which aroused the opposition of the medical profession, and on other social issues frequently he was a little bit too far to the left to satisfy the conservative element within his own party.

One Of Those Inspiring Stories

We still remember the words of affection and faith which Warren's old friend used in describing the California governor. He spoke of Mr. Warren's competence, his integrity and most of all, his wholesome outlook upon America. This appointment which President Eisenhower must make could have a great bearing upon a large number of cases pending or to be heard by the Supreme Court involving the highly controversial social and economic issues of these troubled years.

The news columns Tuesday told of a development in the long struggle over Tidelands Oil. The state of Arkansas has brought suit challenging the constitutionality of the legislation passed by the 83rd Congress giving the states of California, Texas and Louisiana development rights to the oil offshore which by previous decision the court had vested in Uncle Sam. Gov. Warren's position in respect to Tidelands Oil has not been too clear, although the assumption is that he goes along with his state in staking claims to the wealth of the offshore oil reserves. It means millions in royalties to a few states or the division of those royalties among the 48 states. We assume Gov. Dewey holds a similar view, although in connection with the proposed St. Lawrence waterway, Mr. Dewey is at loggerheads with some of the members of the New York Republican delegation in Congress.

Tidelands Oil To The Front

Both men, it has been pointed out, have not been actively identified with the practice of law or with a judicial career in recent years. Mr. Eisenhower may decide to reach for one of the other names that have been mentioned or to come up with an appointee not yet listed in the news columns. That is what happened when he selected Ezra Benson to be secretary of agriculture. It was a surprise choice.

A Patriotic Sacrifice

Twelve years of a man's life spent in a world of Communist intrigue for the benefit of one's country is quite a sacrifice for any individual to make. The bitter necessity of those years must have vanished for a moment at least when two FBI agents who had been part of the Communist apparatus in Dayton, O., finally were allowed to reveal the truth of their status.

Because their duty was to be "Communists" to obtain information for the FBI, these two men suffered painful experiences, including ostracism of the members of the family of one man. When neighbors learned the facts of the agents' long excursion into the Communist world, they warmly welcomed them back into the community from which they had been compelled to withdraw.

All that these neighbors and friends could offer was their heartfelt sympathy and gratitude for the dozen-year sacrifice made by the two men. Undercover work is sometimes necessary to fight the insidious forces of Communism, but those called on to perform the task do so at great risk and ever-increasing sacrifice of the desires to lead a normal life.

Vinson Opposed Giving A-Secrets To Russians

WASHINGTON — Here are some fleeting glimpses in the life of a very great man who died this week.

I was on a camping trip in the Adirondacks with Chief Justice Vinson about a month ago. The woods around us were dry. We were seated on pine-needles eating lunch one day, and the chief justice was smoking a cigarette. He smoked it down to a stub, crushed the stub on a rock, then went over to the water bucket and threw water on the burnt-out stub.

I couldn't help but think that this was typical of Fred Vinson's life — thoughtful, considerate, careful even about the most minute detail.

One evening he told about a historic Cabinet meeting dealing with the atom bomb. The meeting is history now and there's no reason why it can't be described. It took place in 1945. Truman was President, Vinson was secretary of the treasury, Henry L. Stimson was secretary of war. Stimson came into the Cabinet meeting to propose that Russia be given the atom bomb.

He argued that Russia was certain to get the secret anyway, and our chances of world peace would be far better if we showed our good will and sincerity by offering to share our secret with the Soviet. Our relations with Russia, incidentally, were far better at that time than a year or so later.

The Stimson proposal touched off a heated debate.

President Truman went round the Cabinet table, asked the opinions of all present. Jimmie Byrnes, secretary of state, sided with Stimson. So did Miss Perkins, secretary of labor. But Vinson led the opposition. He argued that the secret of the A-bomb was something the American people had paid for, worked for, had a right to keep. Under no circumstances should it be given away.

Tom Clark, then attorney general, backed him up. He argued, Vinson said, from the point of view of the people of Texas and how they would feel if the A-bomb secret were given away.

Secretary Stimson obviously had given great thought to the matter, Vinson said. He spoke with the utmost sincerity. Furthermore, he spoke as a former secretary of state. President Truman postponed decision, but in the end ruled that the atom secrets should be kept.

One of the most memorable talks I ever had with Vinson was a few weeks after he became secretary of the treasury. I had been working on one of the most important news stories I ever broke, the Soviet spy ring in Canada, and told Vinson that I thought he had either a Communist or a pro-Communist working for him as assistant secretary of the treasury, Harry D. White.

I told Vinson I had no evidence that would stand up in court, but that I was certain one of the men the Russians used as their contact in Washington was White.

Vinson didn't say much. But in the next week or two I noted that White left the treasury. Some years later his part in the Soviet spy ring was substantiated.

The story of Vinson's proposed trip to Moscow in the fall of 1948 has been written a good many times, but some of the most important angles were never told.

It is known, of course, that President Truman wanted the chief justice to make a personal face-to-face appeal to Stalin for peace between the two nations. Truman felt that a man with the warm, contagious personality of Fred Vinson, plus his down-to-earth directness and homey philosophy, would be able to melt even the stony heart of Joe Stalin.

Vinson himself was not enthusiastic. He had misgivings about the mission, doubted that he could bring back any real agreement. But, like the good soldier he had always been, he agreed to go if Truman so desired.

However, he insisted that if he did go, he must resign from the Supreme Court and not be reappointed. So strongly did Vinson feel that the Court must be divorced from the executive branch of the government that he was willing to sacrifice the second most important post in the United States. It was partly because of this insistence, I think, that Truman abandoned the mission-to-Moscow idea. He thought it would be unfair to his old friend.

Fred Vinson used to remark that there had been 12 chief justices of the United States. He was the 13th. He never went on to remark that there had been 34 Presidents. He was too modest for that.

But although he enjoyed his work as chief justice, and was justifiably proud of his position, I always got the impression that his happiest days were in Congress and as economic stabilizer. Few people ever realized what a difficult but efficient job Fred Vinson did in holding prices down during the war. He was criticized by everyone. But he stuck to his guns, and, along with Leon Henderson, to whom Vinson paid the highest credit, prices ended up lower after the war than before Pearl Harbor.

I think it was because Harry Truman recognized Vinson's qualities as an administrator that he wanted him to run for President. And he would have been a great President. But here again Vinson did not believe any member of the Supreme Court should leave the Court to run for public office.

France Again Faces Resurgent Germany

WASHINGTON—In the wake of Chancellor Adenauer's stunning victory, the theme of large segments of American opinion is heard with a renewed emphasis—the good Germans, the bad French.

That this should be so only eight years after the end of the war is an amazing fact. It is proof once again of the extraordinary energy and resourcefulness of the Germans, their capacity for work, for carrying through plans, for dedication to a goal.

The demonstration of political unity they have given in the face of the Communist threat is only one phase of their will to recover and retain the leadership of Europe. No less remarkable is the economic comeback which has some characteristically Germanic aspects.

Most noteworthy is the economic penetration of the Middle East and Africa. German electrical and engineering firms are combining to get contracts for big new development projects in that area. An example is the development projected for Aswan on the Nile in Egypt. The estimated cost is $500,000,000 and German firms have submitted complete plans for a power and irrigation scheme rivaling the Tennessee Valley Authority.

While the financing for this giant has not yet been worked out, it is considered feasible. Other smaller projects are being pushed to the construction stage.

Those who retain a deep suspicion of ultimate German aims see in this rapidly growing development merely another means for achieving the ancient German dream of conquest of this key area. The Germans have a special status in the Arab countries because of the continuing hostility of the Arabs toward Israel and the Jews.

In the first rejoicing over the Adenauer victory as a triumph for the West it has been assumed that this demonstration of German solidarity would further the coming into being of the European Defense Community. With his great majority, the theory is, Chancellor Adenauer will now get on with ratification of EDC and the formation of German military units. France will be inspired by this example to do likewise.

But there is a flaw in that theory; a flaw so serious that the net effect of the German elections may be the opposite of the one so optimistically taken for granted. The fear that predominates in France, as it has for 75 years, is that German military might once again overtop that of France. And it is here that the fearful continuing drain of France's war in Indo-China is directly related to the relative strength of the two powers on the continent of Europe.

A unified Germany, ready to get on with arming divisions to be part of the European army, feeds the French fear. With the added burden of Indo-China, the French contribution to the ground forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has not been what was planned and scheduled. Of 12 to 14 French divisions on paper, NATO authorities estimate only seven to eight would be combat ready in the event of war.

Part of the blame — some informed French leaders would say all the blame—must be put on the need to send trained commissioned and non-commissioned officers to direct the fighting in Indo-China. That is especially true since draftees may not be sent without their consent to that war so many thousands of miles from continental France. These trained cadres would otherwise be the nucleus for forming new divisions in Europe.

It is figured that for every trained man sent to the Far East, four others go untrained in France. So the drain has cost the French a considerable part of their strength in France. Therefore influential politicians such as Pierre Mendes - France, reflecting a large share of French opinion, are saying that an end must somehow be brought to the war in Indo-China.

American policy for Indo-China is seemingly built on a great increase of French forces equipped with American materiel in order to achieve a victory over the Communist-led guerillas. What a tremendous change in strategy this would represent is made clear in an analysis by Gen. L. M. Chassin who until recently was head of the French Air Force in Indo-China. He concludes that despite six years of war, the contest has not yet really begun.

Along with certain political leaders, he holds that only through the creation of a native army with real morale will it be possible to prosecute that bitter war. In that way it might be possible to achieve at least an equilibrium with the Communist forces. France is most unlikely to send any sizable new force to the East.

That is the reality evident as one of the consequences of a united and resurgent Germany.

Values Of A Liberal Education

What Is A Liberal Education?

(See editorial, "A Liberal Education," on this page)

By DR. JOHN R. ALDEN
Professor of History
University of Nebraska
(First of a series)

DR. ALDEN

Liberal education requires the acquisition of information, large quantities of it. About the nature of that information there is some disagreement. However, it must be found in very large part in the field of the languages, literature, history, philosophy, science and the social sciences. Further, it must have both breadth and depth. Attendance at a few lectures will not give it, nor does a diploma from a college of arts and sciences guarantee that the possessor is liberally learned.

Liberal education should release the individual not only from ignorance, but also from prejudice and intolerance, so that he may be a more useful person in his local community and in that of the world.

Above all, liberal education should develop inquiring, independent, and courageous people, people who will seek full knowledge, the whole truth, and deeper understanding in age as well as youth, people who will not find answers in platitudes, snap judgments or name-calling, people who will behave and act in accordance with our noblest Christian and humanistic heritages.

To be sure, the person achieving a liberal education gains in addition worthy and interesting occupations for leisure, materials for good conversation, a more attractive personality. Such a person is likely to achieve economic success simply because he is respected and liked by his fellows. But such success is a by-product rather than a goal.

Certainly those liberally educated are not necessarily graduates of colleges of arts and sciences, the institutions formed especially to spread liberal education. Benjamin Franklin was unquestionably a liberally educated man, even though he was largely self-taught. With Franklin may be named Walt Whitman, H. G. Wells and a host of others less famous, not a few in the city of Lincoln and many more in the state of Nebraska.

The colleges of arts and sciences do perform quite efficiently the function for which they were created. Hence they have been recognized as the basic colleges, accordingly they have been given public funds, for it is to be desired that as many as possible should have as much as possible in the way of liberal education. It is assumed that the liberally educated person contributes in large measure toward a better society. Should he not so contribute, we have public and private tragedy. Public funds should not be spent for mere personal improvement. Those liberally educated in schools and colleges maintained by the sacrifices and generosity of others owe a heavy debt to their benefactors. They should pay that debt and commonly do.

Beyond all others among the American population, the teachers need liberal education, for, as we all know and say with almost exasperating frequency, they more than any others mold the minds of the young, with whom always must be the future.

Spending for liberal education, the public provides more effectively for the future than it can in any other manner. The Founding Fathers were intensely aware of this fact. Thomas Jefferson and John Adams, not in agreement upon all questions of the moment, saw eye-to-eye in the matter of learning. Jefferson was the chief creator of the American state university and especially of the modern colleges of arts and sciences. John Adams tells us that "laws for the liberal education of youth . . . are so extremely wise and useful, that, to a humane and generous mind, no expense for this purpose would be thought extravagant."

Beauty On The Campus

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have been out of Lincoln much during the summer. Earlier in the week I had the first opportunity to make a rather careful inspection of the campus. I was somewhat impressed that portions of it have deteriorated in appearance, due, I assume, to the water shortage and the difficulties of obtaining the maximum value from the big sprinklers. The mall fronting upon Andrews and Burnett Halls and that portion centering upon the Mueller Tower suggest that the sod has suffered heavy damage as a result of the heat and the absence of moisture. I noticed also that a part of the hedge which is a feature of the landscaping fronting upon Love Memorial Library is turning yellow at this time. It has been only in recent years that a carefully developed landscaping plan has contributed greatly to the beauty of the campus. Aside from the financial loss which is heavy, the damage to the malls undoes the work of recent years.

Teheran or Tehran?

Plattsmouth, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Note an item in a recent Star issue under the dateline, Teheran, Iran. I can find no city named Teheran on any atlas available to me, but do find Tehran, about 100 miles south of the Caspian Sea in Iran.

Have in the past seen these two cities named in publications in a way that leads me to wonder if they are one and the same city. Will you please enlighten me? I like your editorials.

M. E. SMITH

Editor's Note: Both spellings seem to be correct, with "Teheran" the preferred. Webster's International Dictionary lists: "Teheran or Tehran, prov. N. Persia—city, its capital and capital of Persia, about 70 miles south of Caspian Sea."

'Creeping Communism'

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: If there is such a thing as "creeping Socialism" in this country, then it has a "creeping Communism" as well, and you don't need to go to Washington to find it. It is in our own state government and lodged beneath the capitol dome. It will be found in legislative halls and the State Board of Control. State assistance carries its earmarks. Roman Hruska started it when he secured an order from the State Board of Control to make "employability" and "assets" to be considered in budgeting the old folks on state assistance.

It flourished at the last legislative session with the governor's urging its adoption. "Regimentation" became the order of the day. The old folks were "regimented" to their "original" counties and if they persisted in moving, then no longer were they free agents in a democracy. Only on a "board-and-room" basis could they continue to live in a county to which sons and daughters had removed. And there was another "regimentation" for you! They couldn't live with that son and daughter and draw state assistance!

Would senators and the governor approve of that kind of restriction of their own beloved fathers and mothers? Of course not. Then are not other fathers and mothers just as much beloved as their own? And there is the test for these gentlemen at the next election date.

TABLE MANNERS

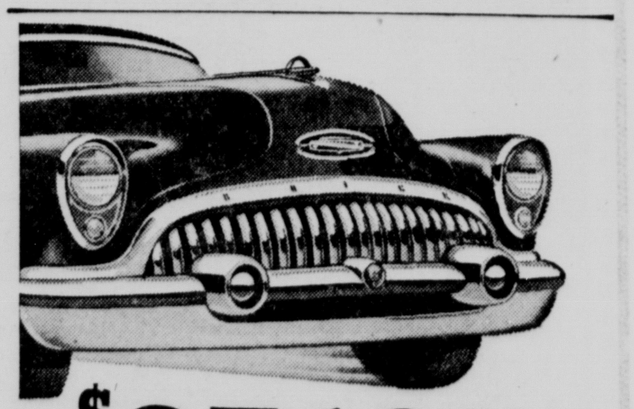

My mother taught me manners,
In my very early life
I learned when I was eating I must never lick the knife.
The blade was meant for cutting.
Was it lamb or beef or pork,
The only proper instrument for eating is the fork.

Fault by fault, with patient teaching, she corrected years ago.
I mustn't sop the gravy, and the tea I mustn't blow.
I remember how she scolded
every time that she looked up
And caught me drinking coffee with the spoon still in the cup.

But there's one thing mother taught me—an old custom
I'd have banned—
'Twas when friends come to the table every gentleman must stand.
I've obeyed her, and I've stood there while some tale was being told,
With the knowledge while I waited that the soup was getting cold.

I go visiting when dining and some friends of mine I see
But I waive the old time teaching and I say: "Still seated be,
I have merely come to greet you and to shake you by the hand,
But you needn't mind your mothers who instructed you to stand."

CIO Council Meeting Planned

National Leaders To Attend

OMAHA (AP) — The CIO Nebraska state industrial union council will hold its seventh annual constitutional convention here Friday and Saturday with about 100 delegates representing 13,000 CIO members in Nebraska attending.

The council will elect new officers Saturday. They will ballot on a president, secretary-treasurer and members of the 12-man board of directors, according to John Dooley of Omaha, secretary-treasurer.

Henry McCourt of Omaha, secretary of Local 94 of the Brewery Workers Union, is president of the council, having been named to the post in January by the executive board after Neal Brown of Lincoln resigned.

Speakers at the convention will include Joseph A. Beirne of Washington, president of the Communications Workers of America; Carl McPeak, Washington, assistant national director of CIO councils; and John Edelman, Washington, representative of the Textile Workers Union. Edelman was proposed by the CIO for assistant secretary of labor, but the appointment was not made.

Other speakers will include Gov. Robert B. Crosby; Mayor Glenn Cunningham of Omaha; Delmond Garst of St. Louis, regional CIO director for Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska; and Walter King of Kansas City, regional director for the wage and hour division of the Department of Labor.

More Purple Ribbon Steers For Judy

Purple Ribbons For Baby Beef 'Old Stuff' To Judy Munn, 16

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

The business of taking top honors in baby beef exhibits is becoming a tradition with a 16-year-old Lancaster County girl.

Two of the 4-H purple-ribbon winning entries at the State Fair this year went to Judy Munn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Munn of Rt. 1, Lincoln. Miss Munn thus chalks up her third straight purple ribbon year at the fair's baby beef show.

In 1951 she took her first purple ribbon on a well-groomed and well-finished heifer. The following year, Judy entered a steer which won the coveted top ribbon and in 1953 she has followed true to form.

The ambitious club member plans to go ahead with her calf work in 4-H with more entries next year. Later this year she will take 10 more fat calves to the annual Ak-Sar-Ben livestock exhibition in Omaha.

Disclaims 'Formula'

Even in the stiff competition encountered in the Ak-Sar-Ben ring, the Lancaster County girl has a record to be proud of. She entered a champion group of five in that event in 1951, and a heifer she took to Omaha last year won a purple ribbon.

Judy disclaims any particular "formula" for producing prize beef. "We just buy good stock as cheap as we can get it," she said. The present two purple ribbon calves, which she will put up for sale at the fair Friday, were purchased at the Omaha calf sale from western ranchers.

The calves, once they are on the Munn farm, are started on oats and finished on corn and a balanced mixed ration.

Judy's sister, Janis Munn, preceded Judy in bringing 4-H honors into the family. Janis entered a purple ribbon beef in the 1949 State Fair.

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)— Freshman enrollment at Kearney State Teachers College is expected to be near 300 by the end of the week, President H. L. Cushing estimated.

He said that this means — in the light of past experience — that the total enrollment for the term will be about 600, or double the number of freshmen.

Cushing said that in addition to the normal loss of upperclass students, the teacher shortage has resulted in an additional loss of these students.

Oldest Phelps County Resident Will Celebrate 100th Birthday

HOLDREGE, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Phelps County's oldest resident, Mrs. Frank Johnson, will mark her 100th birthday anniversary at a special celebration at her home Thursday.

Coming to the United States from her native Sweden at the age of 19, Mrs. Johnson was married in Illinois and arrived in Holdrege in 1884.

Her husband, an early day merchant, came to Holdrege on the first freight train arriving here and brought the town's first merchandise.

Active in lending a hand to the early day needs of Holdrege, Mrs. Johnson saw the town grow from a small community to its present population of over 4,000. For many years she was very active in the work of the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Johnson makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. L. B. Titus, and, according to Mrs. Titus, is "just as independent as can be."

Although her eyesight is beginning to fail, Mrs. Johnson maintains an interest in the outside world and listens to the radio frequently.

Mrs. Johnson has a son, L. Tannies Johnson, living in Fort Collins, Colo., five grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren. Most of the immediate members of the family will be present at the "open house" celebration Thursday.

France Cracks Down On Its Tax Dodgers

Hidden Fortunes Are Cited

PARIS (AP)— Premier Joseph Laniel's government said Wednesday it is beginning to crack down on the most insolent of the millions of French tax dodgers — those with yachts, luxury cars and servant-staffed villas.

To back up the assertion it is really doing something about tax evasion, estimated to deprive the treasury of 600 billion francs ($1,700,000,000) a year, the government cited three fraud cases in which it has gained 35,800,000 francs ($102,345.79).

The figures suggest a long job is ahead.

Similarly, last week the government announced it was seriously striking at those many Frenchmen who have stashed away fortunes abroad and pay no taxes on this wealth.

The government said it had uncovered 50 such cases totaling undeclared capital of 30 billion francs ($85,714,200). But this, too, is a drop in the bucket compared to the estimated total of 600 billion francs hidden abroad.

Unlike the custom in most democratic countries, the French government has announced no names in the fraud cases. And, unlike most countries, France has no law prescribing jail for non-payment of taxes — just fines.

While hitting at the obviously rich, the government seemed to be making another gesture of appeasement toward the working masses who have severely criticized France's time-honored practice of tax dodging.

But Laniel's regime, like previous French cabinets, has as yet made no gesture toward getting tough with the nation's farm families—one-third of the population.

Of the eight million politically powerful French farmers, only 80,000 reported they made any profit last year.

It is estimated that only 3,800,000 Frenchmen bother to pay income taxes. Of this number, 75 per cent have no choice for they are wage earners whose salaries are reported by their employers to the finance ministry.

Previous governments have have made periodic, half-hearted gestures at doing something about France's antiquated tax system, but none has gotten very far. Premier Antoine Pinay announced such plans last year, then dropped them when the howls arose.

Roath Plans To Have Some Fun Time Now

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pfc. Frank E. Roath of Alliance figures he has some good times coming.

"When I get home I'm just going to tear around and have fun—and make up for some of those 27 months I missed," he declared Wednesday after debarking from the Naval Transport Gen. John Pope.

Roath was one of 442 repatriated POWs aboard the Gen. Pope. When he completed his processing he made immediate plans to leave by train for Alliance.

The neat, trim soldier was only 17 when he was captured by the Reds while serving with the U. S. 2nd Division. During his months in a POW camp he served as a squad leader and "I got into an arguemnt every Sunday night with those damn Chinese."

Roath said the Chinese called squad leaders together every week end "and tried to feed us all sorts of stuff. We stood right up to them, though. They didn't like it, but there wasn't much they could do about it."

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) —Courageous is the word for Boni Buehler, former Scottsbluff girl, who lost her left arm and left leg in a speedboat accident on Lake Arrowhead three weeks ago.

"Of course this will slow me down," the 23-year-old former airline stewardess says. "But I have a whole life ahead of me. I intend to get plenty out of it. I'm going to be happy. I can't stop living because I've lost my limbs."

She is strengthening her left shoulder muscles in hopes that someday she can use a crutch, although she knows it will be a long time before she can think of having artificial limbs.

Her mother, Mrs. Alice Buehler of Scottsbluff, has been with her constantly since the day after the accident.

"She's so brave," Mrs. Buehler said. "She has never once cried or complained about it. If she can take it like that, I guess her father and I will have to bear up, too."

Looking for a better job. Check the "Help Wanted" columns in today's paper.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Auditor Checking Mileage Claims

OMAHA (AP)—Three members of the state auditor's staff Wednesday began investigation of mileage charges made by deputy sheriffs for delivering county papers.

The auditor previously had stated there appeared to be "padding" of mileage charges during 1952 and the county board asked the state to assist in determining the overcharges.

The audit will cover 2½ years, the time Sheriff Richard Collins has been in office.

Collins said he welcomes the audit, which he expects to show how mileage claims should be handled.

He pointed out that deputies, several who had worked under previous administrations had been continuing practices in effect "say 50 or 60 years."

"I don't think the deputies had any intention to defraud," he said.

A pace-setting home magazine recently said: "When a dish towel is so pretty it can be a dining mat, or kitchen curtains, or go into the living room as a bar towel, the state of design is healthy. When it can retail for under 60c, our economy is clearly working as it should." The towels shown . . . one a charcoal fringed chambray and the other a Terazzo mosaic print on white Dry-Me-Dry ground . . . are dissimilar in texture and design. Happy Fair Board Plans Fast Building Program

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Things are looking up for the Nebraska State Fair as a meeting of the Fair Board decided Wednesday that the proposed building program would be "speeded up" to make way for better shows in the future.

Fair Board Secretary Ed Schultz, a happy man because of high attendance figures the past four days, says the Board has approved construction of four projects during the coming year. These include a new shop, a livestock and horse barn, a new poultry building, and a new feed barn to replace the one lost during a fire a week before the present Fair.

The board decided during its meeting Wednesday to hold a pre-Fair Day, Saturday, with admission charged and possible games and treats to go with it. The building program of the coming year, according to Schultz, will proceed with finances already on hand and those accumulated during the present run of the Fair.

Wednesday's Fair program was dedicated to the 4-H youth of Nebraska, with Lincoln's Judy Munn walking off with top honors in the steer class with two purple ribbons in that judging division. Clifford Goff and Son of Burwell exhibited both the grand champion and junior champions in the Spotted Poland China boar division in the open classes.

The high temperatures of the day failed to daunt a crowd estimated at around 35,000 by Secretary Schultz. Schultz noted that thus far in Fair attendance there has been an increase.

Tuesday's attendance figure of 37,000 stands, according to Schultz, with the three-day total adding up to about 10,000 more than the record year of 1951.

Schultz noted that "everybody in the business" at the fair had registered gate attendance about 5 per cent above last year and about equal or slightly above the figures of 1951. His guides for comparison are the attendance at the concessions and the grandstand, the latter of which has been packed for every evening and afternoon show to date.

Best To Come

Comparing the Nebraska Fair with Iowa's, Schultz said this state's show has been well attended, in view of having half the population, and the "people are having a good time and spending their money." Schultz said he was "happier than the devil" at the attendance during Tuesday, which he said is the "determiner" of the way the fair is going. He said he expects attendance to pick up during the latter part of the week before the fair ends Friday.

Commenting on Iowa's Fair, Schultz noted that the state of Iowa had three "hot days" during which fair attendance there dropped, and on one day "they were rained out." He added that this year's show in Nebraska has had "unusually beautiful" weather and that the people attending "have had a wonderful time." He added that there have been no complaints of the shows.

Carpenter Return To AFL Clears Up Lincoln Problem

Kenneth Lewis, secretary of the Lincoln Federation of Labor, has received a telegram from George Meany, AFL president, stating that the Carpenters' union will stay within AFL ranks.

Lewis said the Carpenters' local in Lincoln will stay within the Lincoln Federation. The resignation of Joe Schneider, president of the carpenters' local, from sergeant-at-arms in the Lincoln Federation, will not be acted upon, Lewis said.

The Weatherman Forgot

IT APPEARS to us that the weatherman has had a lapse of memory — He seems to have forgotten that this is Sept. 10—that straw bonnets went into winter storage a good month ago, and that wool suits can be a bit uncomfortable in 80-plus temperatures—But all's well that ends well, and we understand that about tomorrow — or maybe even tonight, the cooler breezes will be floating in.

REALLY DON'T know why we talk about the weather—it doesn't make a whit of difference to us whether it's hot, cold, wet or dry, as long as the news comes rolling in as it did this ayem—

First we learned that Miss Margaret Loomis, whose engagement to Richard Moulton was announced this week, honored another bride-elect, Miss Mary Hughes of Seward, when she entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening at the University Club. Following dinner the evening was spent informally and Miss Hughes was presented with a linen shower.

AND THERE'S no time like the present to tell you that Miss Hughes, whose marriage to Donald McArthur will take place on Sept. 23, is announcing the members of the bridal party this morning. For her matron of honor and only attendant Miss Hughes has chosen Mrs. Donald Bickel of Seward. Richard Lahr will serve Mr. McArthur as best man.

* * *

HEAR THAT the Cartmells—Mr. and Mrs. William—arrived home Wednesday evening after a late summer holiday spent at Hackensack, Minn.

AND WE also heard that Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sias are back in town after a ten days trip to the Ozarks. Mr. and Mrs. Sias were accompanied on their trip by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edgerton of Aurora, and at Fayetteville, Ark., the foursome visited Dr. and Mrs. Ray Hunt who resided in Lincoln during the period Dr. Hunt was minister of the First Christian Church.

EXPECTED home at the week's end are Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Lovercheck who will be returning from a month's vacation spent in Canada and Alaska. Mr. and Mrs. Lovercheck went first to Banff, and from there, by car, to Lake Louise, and on to Vancouver, B.C., where they boarded the Canadion liner, Princess Louise for a cruise to Alaska by way of the inland passage. There were stops at Prince Rupert, Ketchekan, Wrangell, Juneau, Skagway and White Horse—and after returning to the mainland the travelers spent some time in Seattle and Portland before turning homeward.

OFF TODAY to return to their home on Long Island, N.Y., will be Mr. and Mrs. Michael Charters and their daughters Kelly and Suzy. Mr. and Mrs. Charters and their daughters, who reside at Syosset, L.I., from where Mr. Charters, who is general counsel for the New York Stock Exchange commutes to Wall Street, have been the guests of Mr. Charters' mother, Mrs. R. W. Charters; his sister, Miss Lillian Charters; and Mrs. Charters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Thomas.

SEEMS we closed our brides' book a bit too soon—Just learned that Miss Judi Lowe, whose marriage to Lieut. Richard Oldfather will take place on Saturday, was complimented Wednesday evening when Miss Mary Margaret McKeone entertained a guest-eightsome at her home.

* * *

GAVE A little thought to the Chef's Cauldron club which, as you may rightly assume has to do with cooking—Wondered if any menus had been planned for the near future, but found that though there were plans—they had not reached, as yet, the menu stage. We're wagering, however, that the masculine members of the group will be getting a little prodding from the distaff side, since the first dinner will find the men presiding in the kitchen.

Bride At Ord Wedding

MRS. RICHARD K. SCHEER

The marriage of Miss Coralee Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson of Ord, and Richard K. Scheer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Scheer of Madison, took place Sunday afternoon, Sept. 6, at the Presbyterian Church in Ord. In the presence of 75 guests, the Rev. Warren Porter read the lines of the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the service, Miss Betti Lu Andersen, frocked in iridescent blue taffeta, lighted the chancel candles as a prelude of organ music was presented by Mrs. Dwight Johnson of Burwell. Mrs. Johnson also played the wedding music.

The maid of honor and bride's only attendant was Miss Nancy Whitmore of Mitchell who wore a cap-sleeved bodice of silk jersey and a full, circular skirt of satin in the rose-beige shade. Her small satin cap matched her waltz-length skirt and she carried a nosegay of gladioli.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of antique ivory and rose iridescent taffeta designed in the after-five mode. The decollete basque was covered by an off-shoulder jacket of narrowly tucked taffeta, fashioned with brief sleeves and snugly buttoned at the back. The tucked motif was repeated on the extremely full skirt, and she completed her costume with a calot of pink velvet. She carried a cascade of gladioli florets shading from ivory to pale pink.

Serving his brother as best man was Tom Scheer of Grand Island, and the ushers were Keith Kovanda and Kerry Leggett.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church. For their wedding trip to Minnesota, Mrs. Scheer wore a bergundy wool suit trimmed with mink and dark brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Scheer will live in Lincoln where the bridegroom, an instructor at the University of Nebraska, is completing studies for a doctorate in philosophy. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he is a member of Sigma Chi, he received his masters degree at the University of Miami.

Mrs. Scheer attended Colorado Woman's College and is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Samuel Beechner in Lincoln. In the presence of the members of the family, the Rev. Mr. Beechner read the lines of the service.

Attending the couple were Miss Bonnie Zeigler of Friend, cousin of the bride, and Dwaine Gillan, brother of the bride.

Upon returning from a short trip to Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Trauger are residing on a farm near Exeter.

The bride is a former teacher in the Seward County schools, and will be a member of the Cordova school faculty this coming year.

Ordinance Asked To Annex Land East Of 56th

An ordinance has been introduced to the City Council calling for the annexation of 80 acres of undeveloped land north of A and east of 56th.

The addition to city limits will be made to give the city jurisdiction on both sides of A for installation of a water main. The main will be installed to serve Petersen's newly-platted Park Manor addition south of A and east of 56th.

The area scheduled for annexation is owned by Strauss Bros. and construction of homes on the land is planned for next summer.

In another development, the Council was faced with a paving dilemma. After adapting an ordinance for creation of a paving district in Oldham from 53rd to 56th and receiving formal petitions for the district, the Council has now been informed by Deputy City Engineer Carl Fisher that the paving cannot go through as planned.

Fisher noted that paving between 53rd and 54th would block what is now a natural drainage ditch from the northeast down across Oldham and on to Antelope Creek. The remainder of the paving could be done, Fisher said, but it would not be according to the way the district was created.

City Attorney John H. Comstock told the Council he could not give assurance that paving a part of the section would be legal. It could be done, Comstock said, by obtaining waivers from property owners where the paving would not go in or by creation of an entirely new district.

Fisher said there are homes on Oldham with FHA loans that cannot be closed until paving is in. People are living in the homes, he said, and the contractor cannot get his money out of his investment.

The Council has negotiated for the opening of another street. Approval has been given for the purchase from Samuel A. Sadderis of a 60 by 305 feet tract of land for the opening of J between 54th and 55th.

Rohman Estate Set At $119,958

Listed are 268 shares of the Phillips Investment Co., $68,340; 1,667 shares of the Sanitary Towel and Laundry Co., $33,300; 100 shares of Quaker Oats, $2,950, and bank deposits, $12,818.

Mr. Rohman owned 268 of 540 shares of the Phillips Investment Co., a real estate holding company for two business properties, $22,000 and $30,000; an apartment house, $16,000, and two Lancaster County farms, $27,600 and $27,000.

Seven Cities To Be Studied As Home For Browns

Rich Baltimore Attorney Raising Million Dollars

CHICAGO (AP)—The American League soon will study a list of seven cities Bill Veeck says have proposed to take over the St. Louis Browns' franchise.

Included is Baltimore where a wealthy lawyer Wednesday said he is working on plans to raise a million dollars to buy into the Browns and shift them to that city, possibly minus Major Domo Veeck.

Houston, Kansas City, Montreal, Toronto and Minneapolis-St. Paul as a combined site also are reported by Veeck ready to give the pauperized Browns a new home.

A scheduled meeting for Friday at New York between Veeck and a four-man league committee appointed to help in a possible shift of the Browns was cancelled Wednesday because several committee members could not attend.

However, League President Will Harridge said the conference would be held as soon as possible, possibly next week in Chicago.

Veeck bustled around Chicago Wednesday, phoning Harridge and huddling with lawyers and Brownie stockholders.

Harridge said Veeck did not mention specific cities interested in getting the Brownie franchise. But earlier Veeck told Sports Columnist Vincent X. Flaherty of the Los Angeles Examiner that the seven cities had asked him to state their offers to the special league committee.

The committee is composed of Chuck Comiskey of the White Sox, Tom Yawkey of the Red Sox, W. O. Briggs of the Tigers and Dan Topping of the Yankees.

"The four of us will analyze Veeck's data and determine whether interested cities are financially able to accept a major league franchise," said Comiskey. "There are many other factors, such as minor league territorial rights to consider. This would not be as simple as was the Boston Braves' shift to Milwaukee this year."

Findings of the committee then would be studied by the full league membership, possibly during the World Series.

Baltimore's latest nudge into the Brownie franchise picture came from Clarence W. Miles, prominent attorney, who told Paul Menton, sports editor of the Evening Sun, he hoped to announce in a week or 10 days he has raised his million dollars.

Miles declined to say whether Veeck, who now has been a showmanship boss in two major league cities—Cleveland and St. Louis—would be included in the shift.

Veeck has an agreement with the city of Baltimore for rental of the Municipal Stadium, now being remodeled to seat 60,000. Sports Shirt Bill was defeated by his league last spring in an effort to move the Browns to Baltimore then.

Triple Threat Back To Attend Arkansas U.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Buddy Bob Benson, triple threat back who quit the University of Oklahoma football squad recently, came here Wednesday and announced he would enroll at the University of Arkansas Monday.

Athletic Director John Barnehill said Benson, an all state high school star at DeQueen, Ark., would have three years of eligibility at Arkansas beginning in 1954.

Benson said one of the principal reasons for his coming to Arkansas is that he prefers single wing football to the T formation.

Brooklyn, Yanks Nearer Pennants; Braves Lose

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers and American League pace-setting New York Yankees took another step toward clinching their respective pennants Wednesday night with one-sided victories.

Brooklyn reduced its "magic number" for mathematical certainty to two shutting out the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-0 as Rookie Bob Milliken pitched 8⅓ innings of hitless relief. The Yankees pummelled Billy Pierce for seven hits in a seven-run fifth inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox 9-3. Despite Cleveland's 2-1 triumph in Boston, New York now needs any combination of nine victories and Indian defeats to clinch its fifth consecutive pennant.

The Dodgers boosted their lead to 13½ games over Milwaukee when the Philadelphia Phillies blanked the Braves 2-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Bob Miller.

The New York Giants defeated St. Louis 8-3 to drop the Cardinals into a third place tie with Philadelphia. Chicago's Cubs won their sixth straight game when Ralph Kiner blasted his 31st home run with two mates aboard in the ninth to nip the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-7.

Mickey Vernon's double with one out in the 12th scored Eddie Yost with the run that gave the Washington Senators a 2-1 victory and a split in their doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns. The last place Browns won the opener 3-0 behind the five-hit pitching of Rookie Don Larsen.

Rookie Marion Fricano pitched a four-hitter and Pete Suder batted in three runs with a triple and homer to give the Philadelphia Athletics a 7-1 triumph over Detroit after Ralph Branca had pitched the Tigers to an 8-2 victory in the first game of their twi-night doubleheader.

Pee Wee Reese's grand slam homer highlighted the Dodgers' victory. Duke Snider also hit a home run, his 38th. Milliken replaced Johnny Podres in the first inning with two runners on base and two out. He pitched near perfect ball. He faced 26 batters and allowed only one to reach base, on a walk. The young righthander was rushed in after Podres had wrenched his knee ducking a line single by Ted Kluscewski.

Don Mueller and Bobby Hofman paced the Giants to their victory over the Cards. Mueller collected three singles and a home run. Hofman batted in four runs with a homer and single. Dave Koslo spaced 11 hits for his fifth triumph. Gerry Staley was the loser.

Warren Spahn failed for the third straight time to notch his 20th victory. The Milwaukee southpaw waged a scoreless duel with Miller until the ninth when Stan Lopata homered with a man on to decide the game.

Pierce, seeking his 18th triumph and his fifth over the Yankees, had a no-hitter until the fifth when the roof caved in on him. Seven hits good for as many runs sent him to the shower with his 10th setback. Mickey Mantle's 10th home run was the big blow. Eddie Ford went the distance for his 17th victory.

4 Huskers Are Cinch 'Starters'

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Only four Nebraska Cornhuskers have cinched starting positions for the opening game with Oregon, Sept. 19, according to no less an authority than Coach J. William Glassford.

They are Tailback Johnny Bordogna, Center Jim Oliver, Wingback Bob Smith and Quarterback George Gohde.

"You can say the rest of the positions are up for contention," added Sir William.

His opinion came after a glimpse of the movies of the Saturday scrimmage.

The same glimpse resulted in a division of the squad between a No. 1 Red unit of 23 and a sub Blue and Green group of 28. Of special note on the Blue-Greens were the names of Center Bob Oberlin and Guard Jerry Paulson, two lettermen.

"The Red squad includes the names of boys we think are making the most progress," Glassford explained.

Seven upperclass candidates who checked out equipment Wednesday were added to the Blue-Green squad. They were Ernest Benjamin, back, Cass Lake, Minn.; John Lehr, back, Scottsbluff; Bob Postma, back, South Sioux City; Leo Scherer, Jr., back, North Platte; Jerry Stark, center, Loomis; Fred Stauffacher, end., Webb City, Mo.; Dick Thimgan, back, Columbus.

Depth, ends and the Oregan passing game continued to cause the most worry.

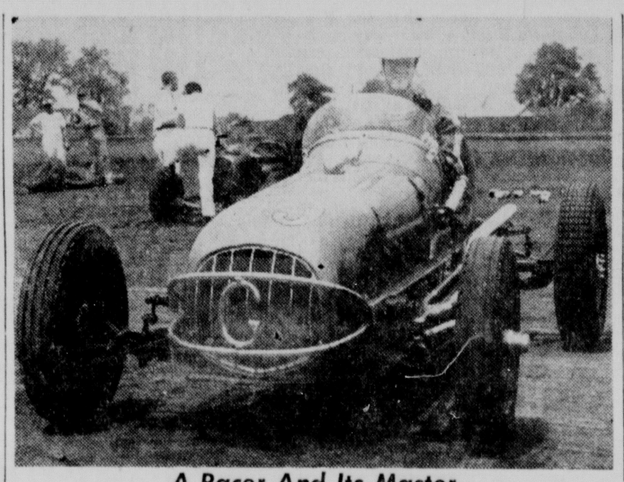

With Quarterback George Shaw rated one of the nation's top passers, the Webfeet are expected to fill the skies with aerials. Fearful of this possibility, Glassford again sent his squad through a long pass defense drill Wednesday afternoon.

The morning workout was cancelled to give the weary Huskers a rest.

With Bill Schabacker (sprained ankle) the latest casualty, the Husker end situation continued to cause concern. Andy Loehr (broken jaw) and Bill Hewitt (twisted knee) will be out for five weeks and Schabacker, although expected back in time for Saturday's scrimmage, is still furrowing Glassford's brow.

In place of Schbacker, an All-Big Seven choice last year, was Jerry Yeager, Hastings senior.

All of the injured members are on what Glassford calls his "Red Cross" squad.

A Racer And Its Master

Behind the wheel of the 69 Goodrich Special is Andy Anderson of Belleville, Kans. Anderson and the Special, which is owned by Ray Goodrich, will be among the entries in the National Championship big car races at the Nebraska State Fair today.

Clia Favored To Win Fair Auto Race Today

Competition for today's national championship big car auto races at Nebraska State Fair tightened to a fare-thee-well as entries closed last night with nearly 20 of the nation's leading drivers converging on Lincoln in an attempt to unseat Bob (Slats) Slater, Kansas City, Mo., from the throne of rule after his sweeping victory here last Sunday.

Leading the speed contingent is veteran chauffeur Vito Clia, Kansas City, Mo., who will be driving the Randal Offenhauser, in which Slater won at the 1952 Spring championship.

Clia, veteran of many victories in midget racers at Kansas City, Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Ia., besides having driven in the famous Indianapolis "500," will be competing on dirt in a big car for the first 'time.

He took over the seat in the Randol car after Mack McHenry, Wichita, Kan., broke both arms when it smashed the wall at Belleville, Kan., last week. The car has been re-built and this will be its first appearance since the near-fatal accident.

Slater will again pilot the former Blue Crown Special Offenhauser.

Other leading competitors shooting for the tall, gangling Kansas City lead-foot will be Bobby Grim, Indianapolis, Ind., in the Honore Offenhauser, fresh from a victory at the Iowa State Fair last Monday night; Dick Ferguson, Glendale, Calif., in the King Offenhauser, who won one feature and finished third in another at Des Moines, and Wayne Selzer, Omaha, Neb., in the new Vaughn Offenhauser.

Qualifying time trials for late entries will start at 1:30 p.m. Clia is among those who will have to qualify.

The first of six racing events will take the green flag promptly at 2:30.

Late model stock cars will compete in a national championship 125-lap event at the Fair Friday afternoon.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians recalled nine players today from their farm system. They will report to the Tribe at spring training.

They are pitchers Sam Jones, Bob Chakales and Ray Narleski, Outfielder Jim Lemon and Catcher Dick Ayward, all from Indianapolis; Pitcher Leroy Wheat and Outfielder Mike Lutz, from Tulsa; Pitcher Jose Santiago from Dallas, and Second Baseman Doug Hansen from Reading, Pa.

Chiefs End Loss Streak In 2-1 Win

DENVER (AP) — Bill Denney pitched a four-hitter to give Lincoln a 2-1 victory over second-place Denver in a stormy Western League game here Wednesday night.

Denney and Al Osorio, Denver hurler, went into the ninth in a 1-1 mound duel before the Chiefs scored their winning run.

A mixup led to a rhubarb and Denver Manager Andy Cohen announced the game was being played under protest.

Tom Neill opened the Lincoln ninth with a single and moved to third on a Glen McQuillen hit-and-run bingle to right. Walt Linden rapped a liner to left but Bobby Prescott snagged the ball in a diving stab.

Neill ran for home but the Bears tagged third, claiming he had left the base before the ball was caught. Base Umpire Jimmy Duncan had run into the outfield to witness Prescott's fielding gem and call the batter out. Plate Umpire Don Fisher ruled Neill scored.

Lincoln misinterpreted the rulings and set up a loud protest. Cohen then launched his argument and failing to get results, announced his official protest.

The Firing Line

Want to see some red faces? Ask those Des Moines and Omaha wiseacres how their Western League home attendance for 1953 stacked up against little old Lincoln's.

It was Des Moines, you will recall, that favored the move for transferring the Lincoln franchise to St. Joseph, Mo., several seasons back.

Omaha, through the press, has been screaming for an American League franchise—this from a club that doesn't draw half its population weight in the Western League.

So here is Lincoln winding up the season with a draw of 91,037 fans, compared to Des Moines' 86,972 and Omaha's 115,840. Consider that Des Moines draws from a population area roughly twice that of Lincoln and Omaha has a 3-1 margin in prospective customers.

There wouldn't be a mite of difference between the draw of Western League and American Association ball in Omaha. Only the celebrities of a major league club would pull people into the Cards ball park.

Except for a spattering few old-timers on the way down, the AA offers hardly anything more in the way of big names than does the little old Western.

Lincoln could get in the league play-offs and yet lose money. It could happen like this.

If the Chiefs wind up in a three-way tie for fourth, which is unlikely but possible, the league rules say: "In the event of a tie among three or more clubs, such position shall be determined by a round-robin in which any club losing two games shall be eliminated."

Such a double-killing series would take at least five days and would shove the playoffs back until Sept. 20. Since the playoffs require 3 of 5 and 4 of 7 series, the league season could run into October.

A two-way tie, which requires only one play-off game, wouldn't affect the post-season play-offs which start Sept. 15.

Even if no ties are included in final standings, consider that Nebraska high schools start their football seasons Friday and the Huskers open, Sept. 19, against Oregon.

Once the football fever hits, baseball dies a sudden death.

A few notes from the fairgrounds auto races . . . Jimmy Campbell, one of the few owner-drivers currently in auto racing, gives a thorough check to conditions of the entire track at each meet . . . He spent more than an hour at the first turn of the Nebraska State Fair oval Sunday watching other cars negotiate the slippery corner . . . His eyes were glued to the spot where Hank Nykaza spun around as the crowd gasped. The Chicagoan regained control of the car just in time to avoid a wreck . . . Vito Clia, long-time kingpin of midget-car drivers in Kansas City, is slated to make his debut in big-car racing in a few days as chauffeur of the Offenhauser Mac McHenry piloted until he broke both his arms in a crackup at Belleville, Kan., last week . . . Mrs. Frank Luptow, widow of the late champion racer, was among the spectators, at Sunday's races. So was her 3-year-old daughter Susan.

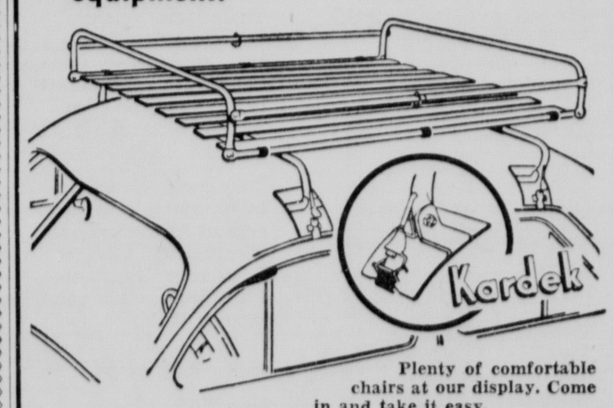

Gene Van Winkle of Lincoln is rapidly becoming one of the country's foremost race starters. He waved the flags last fall as far west as Utah and Idaho and this summer has been the man in charge at many state fair meets . . . One driver, Keith Saylor, is a city alderman in his home town of Macomb, Ill. . . . Crowds at races conducted by National Speedways this summer show a slight increase on the average although attendance figures for many other sports are down . . . Don White, who will compete in Friday's 125-lap stock car race, owns more I.M.C.A. marks than any other driver but never has won the I.M.C.A. championship. His chief rival this year is a brother-in-law, Ernie Derr. Both live in Keokuk, Ia.

According To The Books, Series Should Be A Draw

By HOWARD SIGMAND

NEW YORK (INS)—If you go by the books the inevitable World Series scramble between the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers will end in a "draw."

Such a thing can't happen, of course, but both teams have such complete scouting reports on each other, it would seem that neither could lose. The books are so thorough, and considering all the pertinent factors involved, the books which make with the odds are having a hard time picking a favorite.

Strictly by habit, it could be the Yankees. This will be their 20th World Series, fifth in a row. And they've won 15, four in a row. But the Dodgers, making their seventh try to win their first world title, come in with the best team in Brooklyn history.

Those top-secret scouting dossiers undoubtedly will be put to use by Casey Stengel and Charley Dressen, the respective managers. But will these files pay off? Past experience shows that some times they do and some times they don't.

This was proven last year when these same two teams went seven exciting games before the Yankees finally prevailed.

According to the books, the Dodgers were supposed to be deadly against lefty pitching. So, whom did Stengel call on in relief in that series-deciding last game? Bob Kuzava, a southpaw, it was, and Kuzava held the Brooks.

Then, there's the case of Johnny Mize. Although any pitcher will swear that the Big Cat doesn't know from any such thing as a batting weakness, the Dodgers apparently had the wrong slant.

Mize, who belted three important homers during the series, was asked about the kind of pitch he hit out of the park in the third game. The big guy grinned and said:

"It was high and tight. Just the way they're supposed to pitch me."

And the Yankees had Duke Snider figured, too. He was supposed to be a sucker for a high curve ball. So Snider hit four home runs and almost wrecked the Bombers.

Contact Work For NU Foes

From Press Dispatches

The tempo of drills increased at the camps of the future Husker opponents Wednesday.

Five Illinois footballers sat out an offensive drill because of minor injuries as Coach Ray Eliot continued to stress the Illini attack in contact sessions. The Illini will turn to defense later in the week.

At Kansas, Sophomore Halfback Ralph Moody of Minneola, Kan., Wednesday reeled off scoring jaunts of 39 and 43 yards and scored a third touchdown from the one-yard line in the second game condition scrimmage held by the Jayhawkers. Reports persisted that Paul Leoni, 1952 All-Big Seven end, will not play this year and plans to concentrate on his studies.

Iowa State College Coach Abe Stuber drilled his squad on all aspects of the game in preparation for a hard scrimmage Thursday.

Coach Red Dawson was working hard to find a top-flight backfield combination for his University of Pittsburgh football team. It appears that Glen Dillon and Richie McCabe have cinched the halfback positions.

The University of Missouri squad went through scrimmage operations in three parts Wednesday, at punting, at passing and on the ground near the goal line. Faurot said he was not ready to pick a starting lineup yet.

At Boulder Quarterback Roger Hunt joined the injury list when he was hurt in a dressing room accident. Seven other Buffaloes are hobbled by injuries.

Things are easy at Notre Dame in comparison. Both morning and afternoon sessions were confined to light dummy scrimmage work.

Sooners Ask BIR Aid

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Internal Revenue Bureau Wednesday stepped in to try to halt scalping of scarce tickets to the sellout Oklahoma-Notre Dame football game at Norman Sept. 26.

Earl Wiseman, district director of the bureau, said scalpers would be subject to federal prosecution of they failed to pay a 20 per cent tax on their profit.

Wiseman said he had been asked by the University to have a corps of agents on the campus the day of the game and to investigate scalping up to then. Tickets regularly priced at $4.80 are reported selling for $50.

State's Antelope Season Opens

Nebraska's first official antelope hunting season will get underway a half-hour before sunrise Monday in Southern Cheyenne County.

Only 150 permits have been issued for the five-day hunt and each animal bagged must be taken to the courthouse at Sidney where it will be checked and sealed.

Hunting will be restricted to the area of Cheyenne County between U. S. Highway 30 and the Colorado state line.

The State Game Commission said only guns meeting the requirements of recent State deer hunts will be permitted. They must produce at least 900 pounds of energy at 100 yards. Shotguns, incendiary shells or full-metal cased shells will be prohibited.

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs announced the purchase of Don Elston, 24-year-old right handed pitcher, from their Springfield, Mass., farm team in the International League. Elston, a native of Camden, O., will report to the Cubs here Saturday or Sunday.

State Gives Air Force Officer Full Pardon

An Air Force officer, now stationed in Texas, neglected when he enlisted as a private to mention that he had served a term in the men's reformatory. The record finally came to the attention of military officials and he was faced with court martial for falsifying his record.

He has had more than 10 years honorable service and been advanced to the commission ranks. Wednesday the pardon board granted him a full pardon in order to clear his record.

He is Harold Cleveland, 39, who was sentenced nearly 18 years ago in Lancaster County to three years on charge of auto theft. The sentence was completed in October, 1937.

Will Marry Soon

Keith Cook, 20, Fairbury, who was given a 1 year sentence in the penitentiary in January 1952 for escaping from a work detail of reformatory inmates at Grand Island in order to visit his girl friend was granted a parole. The couple plan to marry within the next week.

Cook was given a hearing by the board in June but action deferred on his case until this month.

Ten other penitentiary inmates received clemency from the board. They are:

Jason Hall Jr., 33, South Carolina, entering building, Cheyenne, 3 years, February, 1952, commuted.

Wrex Greenlee, 55, Lexington, incest, Dawson, 20 years, 1946, commute and parole.

Joseph J. Kunes, 32, Omaha, no account check, Douglas, 1-2 years, September, 1952, parole.

Wm. A. Wagener, 49, Lincoln, forgery, Lancaster, 4-10 years, August, 1951, commute and parole.

Robert Stafford, 53, Sunnyside, Wash., forgery, Lancaster, 17 years, September, 1948, commute and parole.

Casper Wendler, 20, Derby, Colo., escape, Lancaster, 3 years, August 1950, commute and parole.

Howard Metzel, 36, Salt Lake City, grand larceny, Lincoln, 18 months, February, 1952, commute and parole.

Walter Crandall, 29, Elyria, Ohio, utter forged instrument, Lincoln, 2 years, July, 1952, commute.

Tedd S. King, 29, Ottumwa, Ia., forgery, Red Willow, 3 years November, 1951, commute and parole.

Douglas Davidson, 33, Flint, Mich., forgery, Scotts Bluff, 1-5 years, October, 1952 parole.

Reformatory Cases

Six reformatory inmates granted clemency were:

Dean Powell, 26, David City, robbery, from Butler, 9 years, March 1948; commuted.

Donald Priest, 21, Hamlet, statutory rape, Chase, three to five years, 1950; paroled.

Richard Prothero, 22; Plymouth, Pa., uttering forged instrument, Douglas, three years, 1952; commuted.

Donald W. Callentine, 24, Wymore, burglary, Gage, one to two years, 1952; paroled.

Ralph B. J. Gravett, 20, Oklahoma City, uttering forged instrument, Gage, one to two years, 1952; paroled.

4-H Club Exhibitors Groom Animals For Final Show

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

Members of 4-H homemaking clubs continued with demonstration activity through Wednesday at the State Fair, and hard-working club members who entered livestock in fair, judging completed, groomed their entries for the big parade of purple ribbon winners through the 4-H arena in the evening.

The highlight of 4-H activity Thursday will be the annual Share-The-Fun Festival. Several hundred boys and girls from all parts of the state will take part in the variety show.

All the acts which will be featured in the evening show have already won district Share-The Fun contests. The festivals are designed to help club members provide entertainment for their local communities and to develop recreational activities.

Julius Humann of the Lincoln Public Schools; Jack McBride and Mary Augustine of the University of Nebraska, and Carl Deitemeyer and Mrs. Fern Orme of Lincoln will judge the event.

$428,000 Bond Purchase OKd By City Council

The City Council has authorized the investment in government bonds of $428,000 in auditorium funds.

Finance Director Theo Berg reported the money is composed of $350,000 in the auditorium fund, $25,000 in the auditorium site parking lot fund and $43,000 in the 15th Street opening and improvement fund.

Series B government bonds, said Berg, will be purchased with the money. The bonds are eligible for redemption within four months after their purchase Sept. 15.

If kept until their maturity in two years, the bonds will gather interest at the rate of 2.47 per cent per year.

The Council also authorized the consolidation of three other funds. The airport improvement fund, aviation fund and surplus property fund were combined for bookkeeping purposes into a total $210,000 airport fund.

Injunction Sought Against Ordinance

An injunctive suit involving a water district ordinance has been brought against City of Lincoln officials by George H. Braiser, a Lincoln property owner, in Lancaster District Court.

Brazier, an Oklahoma resident, contends that City Ordinance 5337, passed Sept. 2, 1952, created Water District No. 313, under which a water main was to be extended to his property at 1426 No. 12th.

He alleges that the defendants, Mayor Clark Jeary and City Council members, have neglected to order construction of the water main upon which he has relied and have introduced an ordinance to repeal Ordinance 5337.

The petition, filed by Attorney Herbert Baird, seeks to have the Council enjoined in repeal of the ordinance and for such equitable relief as the court may determine.

Lincoln Teacher Returns To Post After Year Abroad

Miss Esther Montgomery of 501 So. 13th returned this week to her teaching position at Lincoln High School after spending last year teaching in England as an exchange teacher.

Miss Montgomery, who described her year as "wonderful," taught at Stand Grammar School for Girls at Whitefield, near Manchester. Girls between 11 and 17 years attend.

She exchanged positions on a Fulbright grant with Miss Margaret Motley, who taught English at Lincoln High last year.

During the summer, Miss Montgomery joined three other Lincoln teachers, Misses Belle Farnam, Margaret O'Rourke and Elizabeth Grone, to travel in Germany, France and Holland.

Crowds Flock To Museum Exhibit

Nebraskans are becoming more interested in the state's past if the attendance figures at University's State Museum exhibit at this year's State Fair are any indication.

Almost 13,000 people, a good 1,500 more than last year, inspected the "Little Museum" on Labor Day. Tuesday and Wednesday again found a steady stream of visitors at the Museum display.

The exhibit points up several Nebraska facts, such as:

1. Wild cattle, which crossed from Asia to North America during the glacier era, lived in Nebraska long before white farmers brought in their stock.

2. Nebraska is one of the world's greatest mammouth and mastadon fossil sites.

3. Nebraska is a healthful state and has one of the most enviable human longevity records in the nation.

4. Nebraska was an agricultural area long before the coming of the White Man, and the Museum exhibits a 600-year-old bone hoe to prove it.

5. Nebraskans who wanted the golden rod as their state flower made a mistake when they first selected their flower: the legislature originally designated a Missouri variety of golden rod—something which was quickly corrected on advice from University of Nebraska botanists.

Six Appointed As Division Engineers

Six division engineers in the State Highway Department's eight field divisions were appointed Wednesday by State Highway Engineer L. N. Ress.

The new jobs are intended to bring closer and more effective engineering inspection of construction work and to eliminate much of the office work done by the field construction engineers.

The division construction engineers will be directly under the field division engineers. The changes involve the hiring of no new help.

The division construction engineers are:

Harvey T. Ball, 12, southeast counties with headquarters in Lincoln.

Frank P. Schnittker, 11 eastern counties, headquarters in Lincoln.

Marvin Nuernberger, 13 northeast counties, headquarters in Norfolk.

James V. Murphy, 12 south central counties, headquarters at Grand Island.

Wayne L. Jacobs, 11 Panhandle counties, headquarters at Bridgeport.

Paul N. Empfield, 12 west central counties, headquarters at North Platte.

Ress said construction work now under contract in the southwest and north-central divisions would not require naming a division construction chief at the present.

Clinics Being Planned For School Bus Drivers

Clinics for drivers of school buses are being considered for next summer under the state department of education at centralized locations. The last such clinic held was in Kearney in 1949.

State Supt. F. B. Decker has expressed concern because there are no regulations for drivers of vehicles hauling school children except to have drivers' licenses.

The vehicles are inspected twice during the school year by the state safety patrol but there are no legal requirements on safety features nor control over drivers.

ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

We are still having a little trouble figuring out India's intentions . . . they may be the best in the Eastern World, but this sphere has two halves and we are in the land of the Western sandwich.

Gandhi was no problem to us . . . a fellow who lives in a sheet has no secret pockets.

You can't beat a fellow that gets up early in the morning, but the only way you could tell whether Gandhi was up or in bed was by whether or not he had the pillow with him.

Nehru is different . . . he makes sweet speeches with a salt taste, dresses like a man with a steady income and assures us of his friendship with his left hand.

He gives the impression of a hitch-hiker who is with us if we're going his way but who would like to take the wheel and drop us at a side road if he decides on a short cut to a greener pasture.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Light volume and selective trading produced a fairly steady bond market Wednesday. Some convertible obligations made substantial progress.

Railroads balanced gains and losses, industrials tended to improve and utilities inched downward. But most changes were minor and undecisive. Sales on the "Big Board" totaled $2,161,000 par value, compared with $1,950,000 Tuesday.

U.S. government bonds were unchanged to up small fractions.

Market Holds Even In Steady Trading

NEW YORK (AP)— The stock market held steady Wednesday in a routine performance.

Wednesday's market was much like Tuesday's steady prices and quiet trading throughout the session.

Gains seldom went as high as a point in key segments of the market. Losses were likewise restricted.

Railroads did well along with many oils, utilities, chemicals, radio-televisions, and building materials.

No section of the list could be classed as being under pressure, but sagging a little were the coppers and distillers.

The market since last week has recovered a small portion of its sharp decline started when the Korean truce was implemented. There has been little vigor in the rebound. Bulls at best are hoping that the market is going through a quiet consolidation phase as a prelude for a new try for a more forceful advance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held unchanged Wednesday at $104.10, which is only $1.70 above the low point of the year reached a week ago Monday.

The industrial component of the average was off 10 cents, the railroads were up 10 cents, and the utilities remained unchanged.

The list was composed of 1,042 individual issues 51 more than Tuesday. There were 381 gainers and 379 losers — which gives a good idea of the balance of the market.

Cash Corn Sells At Year's High Price

CHICAGO (AP) — Cash corn sold at the highest price of the year on the Board of Trade Wednesday, a development which created a brief buying flurry in corn futures.

Corn did not hold its best gains, and neither did the rest of the list. Wheat slipped under the previous close before the finish. Except for one short period trading dragged.

Thus far, the light volume of trading has been this week's main feature in grains. The official report on

Ordinance No. 5602

AN ORDINANCE regulating the selling or offering for sale of items of merchandise commonly known as jewelry at public auction and requiring a permit therefor and the posting of a bond; and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. PERMIT REQUIRED. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale at public auction in the City any jewelry, gold, silver, plated ware, precious stones, rings, watches, clocks or any other item commonly known as jewelry, whether the same be his property or that of another, unless a permit so to do as hereinafter provided has been procured; except that nothing in this ordinance contained shall be deemed to apply to any person selling the same under an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, a statutory foreclosure of a chattel mortgage, nor to licensed pawnbrokers or loan companies selling or offering for sale unredeemed pledges or chattels in the manner provided by law.

Section 2. APPLICATION FOR PERMIT. Any person desiring to sell at public auction any jewelry as hereinbefore defined, shall file an application for permit with the City Clerk at least 10 days prior to the date of the proposed auction sale, setting forth the following information: the name and address of the applicant, the location and address of the proposed auction sale, a sworn inventory and statement of the stock on hand and the stock to be offered at auction, the quality, quantity, kind or grade of each item, the name of the owner of such merchandise and such other information as the City Clerk shall prescribe.

The City Clerk shall forthwith deliver such application to the License Inspection Division, which shall determine whether or not all of the requirements of this ordinance have been met, and upon compliance said License Inspection Division shall issue a permit to the applicant.

Section 3. PERMIT FEE. The applicant shall, upon making application for such permit, pay to the City Treasurer a permit fee of $100.00 for each thirty days or fraction thereof. The City Treasurer shall issue receipt, in duplicate, for such fee, which duplicate receipt shall be attached to the application.

Section 4. BOND. Before any permit is issued, the applicant shall execute and deliver to the City Clerk a bond in the sum of $2,500.00 with good and sufficient approved surety, which bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful observance and performance of all the conditions of this ordinance and to indemnify any purchaser by reason of any violation of this ordinance, fraud or misrepresentation in said sale.

Section 5. TERMINATION, RENEWAL. All permits issued under this ordinance shall expire thirty days from the date of issue; provided, however, that prior to the expiration of such permit the permittee may make application for renewal of such permit for an additional thirty day period, upon payment of a permit fee of $100.00 and the filing of the necessary bond or certificate showing the original bond to have been extended and to be in full force and effect for said additional period. Renewal permit shall be applied for and issued in the same manner as the original permit.

Section 6. NOT TRANSFERABLE. Such permit shall not be transferable or assignable either as to permittee or location of premises where sale is to be held.

Section 7. HOURS OF SALE. No such public auction sale shall be held or the premises open for business between the hours of 6 p.m. and 8 a.m. of the following day.

Section 8. LICENSED AUCTIONEER. The person engaged in doing the actual selling of such merchandise shall have an auctioneer's license in full force and effect as provided by the ordinances of the City of Lincoln.

Section 9. ARTICLES TO BE LABELED: It shall be unlawful for any person to whom a permit has been issued hereunder to offer for sale by auction, any article of the retail value of one dollar or more to which there is not attached a card or ticket or label containing a true and correct statement, plainly written or printed in English, specifying the kind and quality of the metal or material of which such article is made or composed, or the percentage or karat or purity of such metal. If such articles are plated or overlaid, then such tag or label shall contain a true statement of the kind of plate. When precious stones are for sale or sold by auction as such or as part of an article of jewelry, such written statement shall set forth whether the stones are perfect or imperfect and set forth the true name, weight, of any stone over 5/100ths of a karat, in plain figures, and the quality of such stone or stones, and when imitations of precious or semi-precious stones are offered for sale or sold as such, or as part of an article of jewelry, said imitations shall be described or defined as synthetic or imitations of such stones as they purport to represent. When watches and clocks are sold the true name of the manufacturers shall be stated in writing and no parts of the movements or mechanism thereof shall be substituted or contain false and misleading names or trade marks, neither shall second-hand or old movements be offered for sale in new cases without a true statement to that effect. Used and rebuilt watches should be so indicated. Such tag or label shall remain securely attached to any such article or merchandise, shall be delivered to the purchaser, and shall be deemed prima facie evidence of intent to defraud in case such written statment is not a true and correct description and representation of such article sold.

Section 10. INCREASING INVENTORY. During any such sale by auction no additions whatsoever shall be made to the stock of merchandise set forth in the original inventory attached to the application for permit, and nothing shall be offered for sale or sold at any such sale by auction which is in addition to the stock of merchandise described in said inventory; provided however, that upon application for renewal of the permit a supplemental sworn inventory and statement containing a list of such additional merchandise as will be offered for sale, as set forth in Section 2 hereof, shall be filed by the permittee prior to offering such merchandise for sale.

Section 11. REVOCATION OR SUSPENSION OF PERMIT. The City Council may, at any time, revoke or suspend the permit granted for any violation of this ordinance, upon notice and opportunity to be heard as prescribed by the City Council.

Section 12. PENALTY. Any person upon whom a duty is placed by the provisions of this ordinance who fails, neglects or refuses to perform such duty, or who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $100.00 and shall stand committed to the city jail until such fine and costs of prosecution are paid. Each day that a violation of this ordinance continues shall constitute a separate and distinct offense and shall be punishable as such. The penalty herein provided shall be cumulative with and in addition to the revocation or suspension of the permit elsewhere in this ordinance provided for violation thereof.

Section 13. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

15% Of British PWs In Korea Classified As Red Sympathizers

War Office Foresees Home Cure

By REINHOLD ENSZ

LONDON (AP)—A War Office spokesman said Wednesday night about 15 per cent of British prisoners of war in Korea absorbed enough Communist indoctrination to be classified as sympathizers.

Almost 1,000 British POWs have been released by the Communists. More than half are returning on a ship due around Sept. 16.

The War Office spokesman said there were "absolutely no plans for disindoctrination" of those POWs who have been influenced by the Communists.

"They'll all be returned to their homes," he said, "where we expect that most of them will be cured."

Warning Given

He made his remarks in connection with a statement issued by the War Office which warned that many of the prisoners in the first batch would be Communist sympathizers.

The statement said the indoctrinated men were released first by the Communists and as a result the initial batch of returnees consisting of 520 men aboard the troopship Asturias will not be a "representative cross-section of prisoners."

The Communist sympathizers, the statement said, "obviously . . . suffered little material discomfort during their imprisonment and their personal stories might well give the impression that there was little or no discrimination shown in the various camps, which may be misleading."

Not True Cross Section

The statement said its purpose was to point out that "experiences of ex-POWs on the Asturias may not be a true cross section of the treatment given to all British POWs and that allegations made by some of the POWs against alleged informers will have to be very carefully investigated by us before any formal charges can be made."

It said sympathizers included a "small minority who had Communist leanings or even affiliations before they enlisted and are likely to be no more or less dangerous on their return home."

"This group," it said, "were nominated by the Communists as leaders of the camps after officers and senior non-commissioned officers had been segregated."

Portrait In Tatting

Canada To Send Aid

Barrage Of Bibles On Reds Planned

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Council of Christian Churches said Wednesday it will send a barrage of 10,000 balloons carrying small Bibles into Russia, Poland and Czechsolovakia from Western Germany.

It said Evangelist Billy Hargis of Joplin, Mo., chairman of the project, has wired members of the committee in Nurenburg, Germany, to proceed with the project.

Dr. Ernst Schmidt, Nurenburg pastor, will direct the operation, the Council said.

The project previously had been held up over a question of State Department approval, but the Council said it had information such approval was not needed.

'Wild Animal' Practices Early For His 'Big Day'

An excited person too scared to give his name reported to Lincoln Police Wednesday afternoon that he had seen "a large animal" near 8th and Park Streets.

The Lincoln Police promptly called the humane society who captured a "ferocious" ground hog evidently out looking for his shadow.

Everything Is OK Now—Lost $2,389 Check Returned

Everyone is happy again around the Walter A. Baker residence at 6120 Havelock.

Mrs. Baker, on her way downtown from her home, lost a $2,389.84 check made out to her husband.

An alert teenager, Don Ames of 1802 West O, on his way home from school, found the check at 10th and O and went to Lincoln Police.

The happy Bakers gave the youth a reward.
